BEEF AND BACON NEEDED OVERSEAS

Beef and bacon are needed overseas in increasing quantities. They are foods especially suited to the requirements of the men who are fighting and those doing heavy physical labor. The scarcity of fodder and the greater call for meat have compelled the Allies since the beginning of the war to kill more than 33,000,000 head of their stock animals. Thus the source of their meat is decreasing. At the same time the needs of the soldiers and war workers have increased the necessary meat consumption.

Imports of beef and bacon into Great Britain from Sweden, Denmark and Holland have been reduced to a very small amount, whereas all three countries formerly supplied large quantities. The United Kingdom is thrown more than ever upon the North American continent for these commodities. Moreover, the entrance of the United States into the war has greatly increased the requirements of both beef and bacon for the United States army.

The soldiers need beef and bacon and they can only be supplied if the civilian populations of Canada and the United States will reduce their consumption of these foods. A saving of one ounce of meat per person per day, and increased production of beef and bacon on this continent, would go a long way towards meeting the armies requirements.

LOCAL MEN ARE BEHIND THE LOAN

Quite a representative body of citizens of Vulcan district gathered in the I. O. O. F. hall on Thursday October 25th, when they were addressed on the timely subject of Canada's Victory Loan, 1917, by Mr. E. D. Adams, of Calgary.

The speaker outlined the plan of campaign to obtain subscriptions to the loan. The minister of finance has made his appeal direct to the public, relying on willing service of men and women to see that every person was approached and solicited for a subscription to the loan, which would be in amounts as small as $50., bearing five and a half per cent interest.

After full discussion the meeting proceeded to organize the Vulcan district and the election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. chairman, F. A. Elves; secretary, A. R. Schrag; advisory committee, R. L. Elves, A. J. Flood, G. M. Whicher and H. W. Reeves.

Canvassers in pairs will be appointed by the committee; these will have charge of certain defined territory. These districts and the names of the canvassers will be published as soon as they are approved by the deputy, Mr. E. D. Adams. Vulcan district is part of the Provincial division of High River.

R. W. Glover has been placed on the Victory Loan committee, which takes charge of the publicity campaign for southern Alberta.

Patrick O'Connor and son, from the United States, who have land in the Brant district, were recently looking after their interests there and are greatly pleased with the country in general. Their farm is being worked by Mr. A. J. Spank, who has a good crop this year.

THE PERSONAL TOUCH

Just to show how closely the powers-that-be are getting into touch with the local representatives in this patriotic campaign to raise three hundred million dollars as Canada's Victory Loan 1917, the following telegram was received by Mr. Elves in response to his election by the Vulcan citizens to head this district:

Fred Elves, Vulcan,
Shall be most grateful if you will kindly accept appointment as Honorary Chairman of war loan committee for Vulcan district. Mr. Wm. Toole, who is Chairman for Southern Alberta, will communicate with you as to plans of campaign.

W.-T. White,
Minister of Finance.

THE FEEDING AND HOUSING OF SWINE

On account of the high value of concentrated foods suitable for swine feeding, it is important that the foods that are used be so combined as to produce the maximum of results. The question of housing also enters largely into the profitable production of pork. To encourage farmers to raise as many hogs as possible, and to make the most money therefrom, the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, has issued Pamphlet No. 22 on the "Feeding and Housing of Swine". This pamphlet which may be obtained free at the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, deals also with the questions of breeding and care of the animals at different ages and at different seasons of the year. This pamphlet is prepared by Professor G. E. Day, in charge of the Bacon Production Campaign, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Mr. E. S. Archibald, Dominion Animal Husbandman and his assistant, Mr. G. B. Rothwell.

Mr. Archibald, after much experimental work, lays down the principle that an expensive piggery is unnecessary. Brood sows may be kept under most circumstances, even in the winter season in a single board hog cabin. This pamphlet gives specifications and plans, not only of a large piggery, but of a cheap and portable cabin.

The new steam buzzer on the electric plant which gets us up in the morning and blows us to and from work, reminds one of the days when their soul was mortgaged to a corporation. But it is a useful thing to have a public timekeeper.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM LEUT. SKENE

Friends of Lieut. S. D. Skene, who went to the front from Vulcan, have received an interesting letter from him in which he says, in part:

As you will gather from the above, I am in France, and have been here since the middle of August. I had nearly three months in England, and I certainly enjoyed it. After the war I am going to steal the price from somewhere and go back to England with a motor car, as the roads are simply wonderful.

We are out in rest billets just now, enjoying ourselves immensely. I have a very nice room to myself, with a French family composed of the old man and his wife and three daughters. The girls are trying very hard to teach me French, but without a great deal of success, although we all get considerable amusement out of it. The French people are kindness itself. They always have a cup of coffee for me when I come in at night, and one when I awake in the morning.

Fruit of all kinds is plentiful and cheap, and I am practically living on it. In fact, if a fellow could only stay in rest billets all the time this war game would not be half bad. When in the line, however, it is, well different. Aside from the unpleasantness of having fellows killed and wounded around you, and having to dodge shells, 'minnies,' machine guns and gas to keep from being killed or wounded yourself. The night that I landed here was the first time for 22 days that I had had my clothes off, and the first time for 8 days that I had had a wash or shave.

It is a relief to get away from the roar of the shells that can burst around you without hurting you. I have been twice buried by shells, and have had them burst right beside me, but so far I have never been scratched, the nearest to being a nice dent in my steel helmet and that made my teeth rattle.

WANTED: A PETITION TO THE RAILWAY CO.

Let us again draw attention to the entirely inadequate depot accommodation we have at Vulcan. It is fully time that the matter was disturbed and some action started. As a line of action likely to produce some result we suggest that the dwellers in and around Vulcan, not only the merchants and townspeople, but everybody, get their names on a petition and forward it to the railway company, asking that the needed alterations to the depot be carried out. It is only by going after it that any result will be achieved; we shall never be heard unless we raise our voices. The sooner the matter is taken up the better. Let us see if, within the next day or so a petition cannot be started, given to everyone to sign, and sent off to the right authorities. Then we may get something done, otherwise the present depot will be where it is for all time to come.

THE VICTORY WAR LOAN

Once again Canada is asking her people for money for another war loan. The stock will soon be offered to the public, and meanwhile intending investors may familiarize themselves with the conditions thereof through the medium of the advertisements, which the Government is publishing in every newspaper in the Dominion. It will then be placed before us how, by taking up a part of this loan, and everyone will be asked to do so, a man, a woman or child may add to their financial stature at the rate of 5 1-2 per cent. per annum, the Dominion of Canada being the security.

From the purely business standpoint nothing could be more inviting. Of course, there are investments of the more speculative nature which offer, perchance, bigger returns, and of these only one need be cited, one closely in touch with our daily lives, farm lands. The past two seasons have illustrated the possibility of returns from that source of investment beside which 5 1-2 per cent per annum pales into insignificance. The facts are known to all of us.

In regard to the war loan, however, every conscientious person will view it a little away from the angle of a purely business proposition. He will see in it not so much the lucrative interest as the letting of his money be used for the country by the country. His sentiment will be of equal balance with his business outlook. By his investment he will be keeping his dollars at home, stabilizing the country's credit, employing his fellow countrymen, and sowing a secure future for himself. And over and above all this he will be helping to shorten the war; all by lending his money at the rate of 5 1-2 per cent. to the country from which he has derived it.

THE FOOD CONSERVATION PROBLEM

From time to time the public is jolted into recognition of a food problem by what he sees in the press. Practically all the everyday commodities have been dwelt upon in some way or another and we are repeatedly warned by those having authority that unless we curtail here and deny there, there is, in the near future, a period of want not only for ourselves, but for the fighting men. We shall suffer first, for the fighting men shall be kept on a full complement of food as long as ever possible. And this is only just considering the vast difference between the soldier and the civilian.

In short, from all we read, we receive rather more than a hazy idea that there is a crying need for economy, and we naturally look around for some guidance wherewith we may be led in the right path. For guidance we are told that individual enterprise in this matter is our greatest possibility; that it is up to each and everyone of us to eat less and conserve more.

And there we come to the query as to whether, after all, we can attain these economies by simply being asked to do such and such a thing. We are warranted in assuming that the food controller cannot do it all; is he, on the other hand, warranted in assuming that the general public can do it all? The answer is in the negative. Let us take for example the hotels. They are places of public call and are trying to live up to the suggested economies, but what about the thousand and one little restaurants and cafes over the land? Are they doing anything, and who is supervising them to know whether they are or not? And the thousands of homes scattered over the prairies; are they the glowing examples one imagines them to be?

But whose fault is all this? Not the food controller's, because he has said 'Thou shalt not'; not the caterer's fault because he is faced by unscrupulous competition and home indulgence. Where then is the fault, the leakage? In a want of co-ordination between the authorities and the districts. Why not, instead of one food controller for one Canada, have several Canadian districts under local authority and supervision, with the food controller at the head? Is it not wiser to have the Dominion departmentalized, so to speak, each district with its own particular local conditions having its own particular restrictions? There are problems, of course, which are Dominion-wide, such as flour, sugar or beef, but there are also problems of purely local character, as witness the order in regard to canned vegetables. At the present rate of going, the best of intentions to the contrary notwithstanding, we are travelling in a circle, and the sooner we end it the better. Baron Rhonda may be handling Great Britain as a unit, but compare the size of that land with Canada, together with the versatility of production, and the difference between the two cases is very different.

What we want today is not scare warnings or mere threats as a recompense for wilful waste. We want a systematically planned course of food conservation reaching into every corner of the Dominion, and until we get that, or something approximate a great deal of food and printer's ink is going to waste. The food controller has a colossal job on his hands, but if we, either through indolence or negligence, fail to co-operate with him, he must, for our own good, co-operate with us.

BANDITS AT BARONS

Early on Wednesday between midnight and half past twelve, two armed and masked bandits figured on making a clean-up at the expense of some of the club members of the town of Barons. They entered the club, feld up about fifteen members at the point of the gun and gathered up a nice little sum of $404, among which were two $100 bills. They were not fortunate in making their getaway, for the Lethbridge police were 'phoned to keep a look-out for the robbers. The latter were captured by the Lethbridge police and held in custody, and the men who were robbed went down to Lethbridge today to identify the robbers. The names of the two bandits are Kass and Bowens. A quantity of revolver ammunition was found in the possession of Bowens.

YOUR JEWELLER

Will Class One Provide The One Hundred Thousand Men?

It will be greatly to the advantage of Canada if the entire quota of 100,000 men to be raised under the Military Service Act can be secured from the first class; that is, from the men between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917.

This is almost self-evident for the following reasons:

It is admitted that, between the ages of 20 and 34, the average man is at the height of his physical strength and is most adaptable to the change of conditions from civilian life; the military service of unmarried men and widowers without children would occasion less distress than that of most others, since they are largely without dependents. Also, it would entail less financial burden for Canada, through separation allowances, etc.

Authorities estimate that, after all proper exemptions have been allowed, Canada should be able to produce from the first class 100,000 men fit for service, so the drain upon the man power of the country will not be severe.

Members of Class One will be well advised to present themselves for examination immediately to the Medical Board in their district. Upon examination as to their physical fitness, they will be placed in one of the following categories:

- Category A—if fit for service in overseas fighting units.
- Category B—if fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalion, etc.
- Category C—if fit for service in Canada only.
- Category E—if unfit for military service of any nature.

If not placed in Category A, the applicant will know that he is not liable for immediate service, but will go to the Post Office and send in a claim for exemption with his Medical Certificate attached, when he will receive in due course a certificate of exemption until those in his medical category are summoned for service.

Where a man, who is placed in category A, feels that exemption should be allowed, an application form can be secured from the postmaster. This form, when filled in, will be forwarded by the postmaster to the registrar of the district, and the applicant will be informed by mail as to the time and place for the consideration of his application by the Exemption Board.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

BIG CAMPAIGN TO RAISE MORE MONEY STARTED BY GOVT.

No More Important Work Outside the Trenches Says Hanna

A Dominion-wide campaign for increased production of hogs is to be undertaken at once. The urgent and rapidly increasing needs of the Allies for pork products were explained today to a gathering of representatives of the agricultural departments of eastern Canada and swine breeders, and the initial steps were taken towards an organized effort under the auspices of the federal Department of Agriculture, working in co-operation with the food controller.

H. S. Arkell, acting live stock commissioner, presided at the meeting today.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, food controller, addressed the meeting and explained that the needs of the Allies must be supplied if disaster were to be averted. He said that the decision to speed up the production of food animals in Canada was the outcome of representations made to this country and the United States. No more important work could be undertaken outside of the trenches, said the food controller.

"The entrance of the United States into the war means that the demands for bacon and pork products to feed the American army will greatly increase," said Mr. Hanna. "The United States surplus production will not be much more than enough to feed the United States expeditionary forces. Great Britain and the Allies, therefore, will look to Canada to an increasing extent to supply hog products."

Following Mr. Hanna's address a resolution was passed by the representatives of the hog-breeding industry who were present, endorsing the movement to increase hog production, having the assurance of the Minister of Agriculture and the Food Controller that the spread in prices between the producer and the consumer would be regulated. Committees were appointed to consider how best to secure joint action by all interests, to deal with the food question, and to work out a plan of better distribution of hogs.

Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, is now ambassador to Turkey.

Hon. Robert Rogers has been invited to be a union candidate for South Winnipeg. Mr. Rogers will not accept the invitation.

The liberals and conservatives of Medicine Hat have decided to hold a union gathering on Wednesday, when it is understood that the union nomination will be tendered to Hon. A. L. Sifton.

Brazil chamber of deputies decided on Friday, by a vote of 149 to 1, to declare that a state of war existed between Germany and Brazil. This makes the eighteenth country at war with the central powers.

12 Reasons Why 12

1 Because first and foremost, Canada needs the help of every man, woman and child between the Atlantic and the Pacific to dig in and help if it is in their power to do so. The more money Canada can raise in her own borders the cheaper it will be.

2 Because, while our soldiers are over in France doing the fighting, we at home are here for the purpose of doing our 'bit' to back them up. The sinews of war are men, munitions, food and money. Other people are supplying the first two, it is our place to see that the country has food and money.

3 Because, the war has increased the price of the grain you raise, and there is no better place for our money than in the new loan. It yields 5 1-2 per cent. and is as safe as the continent. It has the Dominion of Canada at the back of it as security.

4 Because, our money is as necessary to our country as the food we raise. We are glad to raise the wheat, and we should be glad to raise the money. There is no sacrifice about it, it is a safe investment yielding good returns with absolutely no risk.

Vulcan People Should

5. Because, such men as H. W. Wood, president of the U. F. A., one of the most capable men in the Dominion today, are asking every farmer to do his 'bit' by subscribing to the loan. And the opinion of Mr. Wood is backed up by the opinion of the best men in the country.

6. Because, this loan affords an opportunity for you to show just how much you care whether the war is won by the Allies or Germany. If you have $50.00 to spare you can put it in the loan; every $50.00 is a setback to the kaiser and his ambitions.

7. Because, whether you have $50.00 or $5,000.00 to invest, it is your duty to make that money help to keep the kaiser in his place. The war depends on the dollars just as much as on the bullets, and you know what would happen if the allies were to find themselves without ammunition.

8. Because, the loan is a fine way of putting away a nestegg for old age, and, if you find, after you have invested, that you need the money, your banker will gladly take the security of the war loan on which you can raise money. It is as good security as your farm.

Support Canada's New

9. Because, if you want to do something for your wife or family you cannot do better than buy them a war loan bond. You have always meant to do something for them. Well, why not the war loan, earning 5 1-2 per cent. all the time? Nothing could be better as a gift or an example.

10 Because, you cannot afford to let your country need the money when you have it laying in the bank. It is not a square deal. Furthermore, by helping your country you are helping yourself and the rest of civilization to overcome the greatest military menace the world has ever known.

11 Because, the world is watching Canada to live up to the cause she has put her hand and seal to, and surely you are not going to be one to say you won't help. Canada needs you in her business right today, and her business is your business. Are you going to back out?

12 Because, Canada has given a lot and done a lot for you, and now it is your turn to do something for Canada. Don't lie down on the job, but show the world that your heart is in the right place. If you cannot pull the trigger you peel your roll.

12 VICTORY 12

WAR LOAN

U. F. A. PRESIDENT TALKS TO FARMERS

To the Farmers of Alberta:

Gentlemen: — Arrangements are being rapidly perfected to organize Alberta for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions to a war loan to be known as "Canada's Victory Loan, 1917." There is no necessity to dwell on the needs of money to carry on the war. We all know the needs are so insistent that every nation is straining its resources to the utmost to meet the requirements. If we give our men to the cause and then fail on account of financial backing, their blood will be on our heads.

To meet Canada's immediate requirements, the need of $150,000,000 is imperative. More will be accepted if subscribed. In order that you may understand more fully the Allies' financial condition, which rests largely on Britain's tremendously taxed strength, the following quotations are given from a speech made by Sir George Foster in the House of Commons on September 8th, 1917, in reply to certain members who were urging that pressure be brought to bear on the Imperial authorities to continue to furnish orders to our munition factories after the British factories were equipped to furnish these munitions themselves:

"My honorable friend would have this Government insist upon the British Government spending hundreds of millions of dollars in this country for munitions which can be made in Britain, to the detriment of the purchase in this country of the agricultural products which we can raise, and which Great Britain cannot raise. There is no ground for such an argument as that, or for insisting upon it. So far as this government is concerned, we do not intend to insist upon that thing being done.

We do not intend to take the vicious ground of demanding that Great Britain shall spend her millions in Canada getting made here what she can better and more cheaply make in Great Britain for the prosecution of the war, and thereby leave herself without funds to buy what is absolutely necessary, food for the British people, from Canada, which can and does raise the food and wishes to supply it.

If this Government is going to urge the British Government to purchase anything in this country it will not be munitions, but the fruits of the earth, the products of the soil, the farmers' increment, which Great Britain cannot supply and which we can supply in abundance.

I leave my honorable friend to his argument that this Government shall make a plea to the Government of Great Britain shall continue to make her expenditures in this country in such a way that we may carry on the manufacture of munitions to the same extent as before. Great Britain has bought munitions in Canada to a tremendous extent. During the last two years and a half she has expended nearly $400,000,000 on munitions in this country, perhaps more than that, I have not the exact figures. She has done that because she has needed those things, because she was not then fully equipped to make all those munitions that she needed and has a surplus from which to supply her Allies, was it not wise and right that she should give that work to her own people, keep that money in her own country, and thereby more economically and cheaply throw her resources into the field for the successful prosecution of the war?

My colleague, the Minister of Finance, has very frankly laid before this House some phases of the financial question, about which we probably do not think as much as we might and which it is very difficult for us adequately to sense. It may very well be thought that Great Britain is the richest country in the world; that she has interminable resources. To a certain extent it is true that she is rich and has great resources; but the financial burdens imposed upon Great Britain from the beginning of the war are also beyond the power of the human mind to grasp. She has upon her shoulders the financial burden of maintaining the greatest fleet in the world, a fleet now almost double what it was at the beginning of the war. Instead of an army of 150,000 men which she had trained when the war began, she is maintaining an army of well up to four or five millions of men which she is maintaining. She carries on operations in every continent and in almost every quarter of the globe. She has her military expedition in South Africa, Asia, Italy, the Balkans, Mesopotamia and at the front in France. She has contingents of her forces everywhere. She shoulders that whole work. Her Allies France, Italy, Russia, Belgium and the Balkan States have depended upon Great Britain, and generously she has given them the support without which they could not have done what they have done. All that comes upon Great Britain and any one who will carefully think that over and try to realize what it means will come to the conclusion that there are not immeasurable depths of resources in Great Britain.

To make a long story short, Great Britain today finds the very greatest difficulty in financing her needs and the needs of the war.

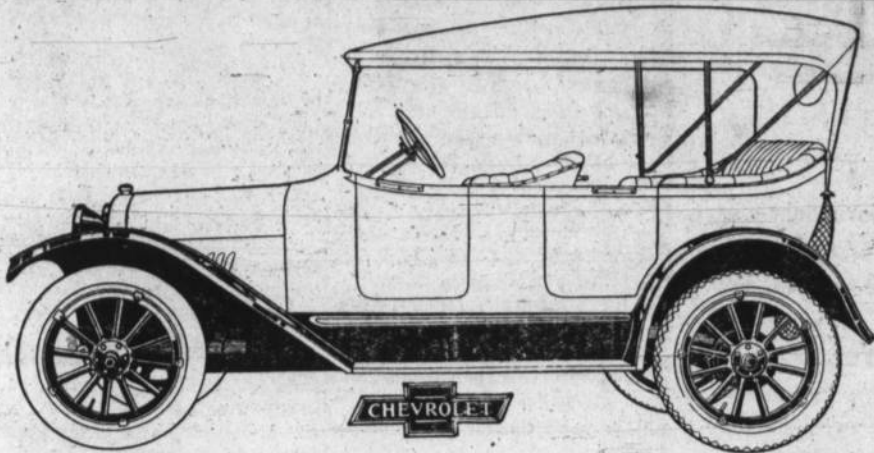

Canada has stood behind her as no other outside Dominion has done or has been able to do, not that others have not had as good a will, but they have not had the resources and therefore they have not been able to do as much as Canada has done. But Canada has tried to do her share in that respect.

So the matter of financing for the future is a very difficult problem. Here was your cheese industry in Canada running up to $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 or $60,000,000. Great Britain needed that cheese, but Great Britain was not able to finance for that cheese. So Canada came in and financed for it, and is doing it to this day. There is also your bacon and hog industry, and the live stock industry. Great Britain is not able today to finance for what she absolutely needs from this country in the way of these products, and if it is to be done Canada must do it. Canada is prepared to do it to the utmost of her power—is doing it today, and is organizing to do it in the future. Yonder in the west is a possible wheat crop with a surplus of anywhere between 100,000,000 and 200,000,000 bushels. If Great Britain does not but buy that wheat, who will? If Great Britain does buy that wheat Great Britain must finance, and perhaps very largely through Canada herself. And yet here are gentlemen who plead with tears in their voices that we should keep up the munitions factories, and let our wheat lie in the elevators or on the prairies of the West." Sir George Foster, in the House of Commons, Sept. 8, 1917.

All previous Canadian loans have been subscribed largely by a few wealthy subscribers. The time has come when the people must subscribe. This money is to be used largely to buy the products of our own farms at remunerative prices. By loaning,

Why Canada Needs More Money

UP to date the war has cost Canada about $700,000,000.

Canada has spent in Canada over $400,000,000 on her own account.

Canada has spent in Canada on behalf of Great Britain over $300,000,000.

What Canada spends for Great Britain is really loaned to Great Britain and will be repaid or credited to Canada later on.

Great Britain needs so much ready cash to finance her own expenditures at home for herself and for our Allies that she must buy on credit from Canada, and from every other country where she can get credit.

Of course Great Britain's credit is so good that other countries, in order to get her trade, are quite as willing to give her credit as we are in Canada.

Canada wants to help Great Britain not only because Canada wants Britain's trade but because we are Canada and she is Great Britain—both members of the same great Empire, kin of our kin, our motherland.

For Canada it is both a filial and patriotic duty to supply Great Britain's war needs and remember, her needs are our needs. Also it is in Canada's self-interest to supply those needs and thus keep open a market for our products.

Now, Britain needs our wheat, our cheese, cattle, hogs, and many manufactured articles.

Canada also needs many of these things—between the two it amounts to more than a million dollars a day in cash.

And the producers must be paid in cash.

Neither Canada nor Great Britain could go to a Canadian farmer and buy his wheat or his cattle on credit.

The farmer and all other producers might be ever so willing to give their country credit but they could not do it because they have to pay cash for wages, for rent, materials, etc. They must be paid in cash, or its equivalent.

So Canada says to Great Britain:—"I will lend you the money so that you can pay cash to Canada's producers for what you want.

"I will borrow this money from our own people just as you borrow money from your people.

"I will also borrow from the people of Canada money to pay cash for all the products that Canada, as well as Great Britain, needs in Canada."

That is Canada's practical, patriotic part in helping to win the war.

Without this credit the Canadian producer could not sell to Great Britain, and without these Canadian products the war would be prolonged.

So it is necessary for Canada to give to Great Britain the credit in order that Canada's own producers, who need a market, will have one; and in order that Great Britain which needs the products to win the war, will get them.

Now how does Canada get the money by which both Canada and Britain can pay cash for Canada's products?

By borrowing it from the people of Canada through the sale of Canada's Victory Bonds to be offered in November.

That is why Canada's Victory Bonds are offered to the people—to raise money to help to finish the war.

"Canada must keep her shoulder to the wheel even though it be a chariot of fire," and the way for Canada to keep her shoulder to the wheel is by buying

Canada's Victory Bonds

Next week this space will tell why Canada raises money by selling Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

GEORGE LANE TO BE UNION CANDIDATE?

According to the Calgary Daily 'Herald' it is probable that Mr. George Lane, liberal nominee for the Bow River federal riding, will contest the coming election as the union candidate. Mr. J. S. Mavor, the tory nominee, retiring in his favour. The 'Herald' says:

Much interest has been aroused in regard to the Bow River federal riding, owing to statements that George Lane, prominent liberal and old-time cattleman of Alberta, will be the union candidate in this riding. It is understood on good authority that Mr. Lane will soon make a statement in support of union, and that J. S. CANNOT ANSWER FOR FOR RUSSIAN SOLDIERS

The officers of the Petrograd garrison met on Monday to discuss the position of the Russian army and adopt a resolution declaring that authority on the part of it chiefs is virtually non-existent. The resolution says in part:

The community as it is at present, cannot defend Russia. On the contrary, the approach of winter and the present subversive aspirations of the army and its lack of any sense of responsibility will complete the ruin of the country. We do not renounce our duty, but in answering for ourselves we do not answer for our men. The time has come to make this declaration openly so that nobody may be deceived or trust in vain delusions.

FREE SEED DISTRIBUTION

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture, a free distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples of grain for distribution will consist of spring wheat, about five pounds, white oats, about four pounds, barley, about five pounds, and field peas, about five pounds. These will be sent out from the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, by the Dominion Cerealists, who will furnish the necessary application forms. A distribution of potatoes in samples of about 3 pounds will be carried on from most of the experimental farms, the central farm supplying only the province of Ontario. All samples will be sent free by mail. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each applicant. As the supply of seed is limited, farmers are advised to apply very early.

TEST WHEAT SHIPMENT

The Dominion Government is making a trial shipment of 100,000 bushels of Alberta wheat to Liverpool by way of Vancouver. The possibility of such a route succeeding will depend largely on the west freight and ocean rates, which are high as compared with the eastbound. Much useful information will be obtained by the test now being made. A steamship recently built in Portland, the 'War Victory', has been selected and a government chemist will be aboard to observe the effects on the wheat of climatic conditions. One of the main arguments against the western route is that the grain would deteriorate on its passage through the Panama canal.

Two thousand German infantrymen at Cologne mutinied when ordered to the Flanders front last week and destroyed their rifles and equipment, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Daily Express. A general who tried to calm them was stoned. The mutineers were arrested and 26 of the ringleaders were court-martialed.

Food controller W. J. Hanna declared on Saturday that the sugar shortage in Canada is very real and would soon result in drastic restrictions if the situation did not improve.

In response to warnings received U. S. food controller Hoover of a conspiracy afoot in the northwest to destroy grain supplies and cattle, steps are being taken to safeguard grain elevators and stockyards in the state of Washington.

Well authenticated reports that have reached New York reveal that Germany has gone into the business of counterfeiting on a big scale. It will be remembered that she was proved to have forged American passports for the use of spies and agents. It now appears that she is flooding Russia with counterfeit Russian bank notes, issued to the amount of 3,000,000,000 roubles ($1,500,000,000). The notes are marvelously engraved and the initial is so perfect that only the most experienced experts can detect the forged from the real notes.

not giving, but loaning this money, we both furnish the sinews of war and keep open a market for our products, and thereby maintain our prosperity. Besides, it is building for the future. If we invest now while we have the money to spare we will receive it back, interest and principal, at a time when we may be sorely in need of it.

The famous "Liberty Loan" of two billions of dollars floated in the United States was enthusiastically financed by an enormous number of subscribers scattered all over the country by all classes of people. By this method the burden of financing was splendidly equalized; but the good results of this will not be realized till the repayment of that loan is shared in by all classes and sections, and not all drawn to one class of people, or one section of the country.

Let us be equally wise and equally zealous in supporting a popular loan in Canada. We want to come as near as possible to having at least one bond allotted to each man, woman, boy and girl in Alberta.

The details of the plan of campaign will be fully explained to you later by those who have the work in hand.

Each man, woman, boy and girl must do his or her share in this crisis. You cannot do it by idleness.

Each dollar must do its duty. Dollars cannot do their duty in idleness. Do not hoard them. Do not spend them foolishly in riotous living. Send them out on a safe necessary enterprise in the service of both country and self by investing in this "Victory Loan." Thus invested, they will be bread cast upon the waters that will return to you, perhaps in a time of great need. The United States' first "Liberty Loan" was floated at 3 1/2 per cent. interest. Our Canada's Victory Loan will bear about 5 1/2 per cent interest.

Yours fraternally,

H. W. Wood, President,
P. P. Woodbridge, Secy.-Treas.
